Whether you choose to fix healthcare or not, the job is yours! Healthcare cannot be fixed by Washington, by self-styled experts, or by adopting some other country's system. There are too many special interests. The power of inertia seems overwhelming. The issues are emotional, contentious and polarizing. Worst of all, those with power see all solutions in terms of political compromise. Imagine your doctor saying this. I have negotiated with everyone. I can remove part of your tumor but have to leave the rest. Your cancer needs four drugs. The pharmacy and I have reached a compromise: you get two. That is obviously ludicrous. Yet that is exactly what happens when political solutions are applied to medical problems. Politics is the "art of the possible." What U.S. healthcare needs is the necessary. You and only you can, must, and will fix healthcare. "Uproot U.S. Healthcare" is your guide. It helps the average person understand the real reason why healthcare in the U.S. is failing. Uproot U.S. Healthcare shows how the average person can become a healer of this sick system so we all can get the health care we need without either individuals or the nation going broke. Democrats, Republicans and Deane all claim we are working in the best interests of the American people. The difference between them and me is simple. I have nothing to gain. After reading this book, you decide whose approach will cure U.S. healthcare.
